

School celebrates with Special Person's Day

Mark Klem, left, with Kooper and Siahli Schmaal.

By Nick Grimm

The people special to Kangarilla Primary School's students were recently celebrated.

The little school on McLaren Flat Road held its Special Person's Day on September 6, where anybody special to the students was invited to participate in a range of activities with their loved ones, including gardening, crafting and tinkering with bicycles.

Principal Donna Lean said the annual event was a "great way to showcase some of the hands-on learning activities" run at the school.

"This day gives us an opportunity to show the people important to our students how they are learning," she said.

"We run these learning activities weekly, so it was great to have so many people come along and see what we're doing for the students."

Enrolments

Ms Lean said the school's enrolments had increased by 25% since the mid-year break, and the was also a way to invite new families to "mix".

"We've had so many new students that have come into our little school recently, so to have so many of their loved ones come to and enjoy a morning with us was wonderful," she said.

Lucas and Alice Hooper with their aunty Lucy Gale, centre.

LEFT: Lincoln Hutt, left, with his pop Terry Hutt, tinkering with some of the school's bikes.

BELOW: Lilah Colby, centre, with grandparents Don and Margaret Crosby.

